

AI Directory – Terms and Conditions and Privacy Statement

Terms and conditions

By submitting this form, you acknowledge and agree that:

1. You authorise us to publish your responses in Part 2 of the form in the AI Directory. You acknowledge that this information may include organisational descriptions and visual identifiers (e.g. logos, tagline) which could in some cases include personal identifiers such as names or images. You consent for this information to be publicly available via the AI Directory.
2. The National AI Centre (NAIC) and the Department of Industry, Science and Resources (DISR) may use the information you submit for purposes consistent with promoting NAIC activities, including directory listing, internal analytics, reporting and relevant program engagement.
3. Third party technical support providers may access your information solely for the purposes of delivering these services, in line with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).
4. Inclusion in the directory does not constitute endorsement of your organisation, products or services by NAIC or the department. You must not represent or imply that such endorsement exists.
5. You are responsible for ensuring that the information you provide is accurate and up to date. NAIC and DISR accept no liability for any incorrect or misleading information you submit.
6. NAIC and DISR reserve the right to remove or edit any information they deem inaccurate or misleading. They may adjust your entry to align with the content standards of our platform.

Please review your submission carefully. If you have any concerns about your entry, contact us, and we will work with you to make adjustments.

Privacy statement

Your privacy is important to us. By completing this form, you consent to the collection and use of your personal information, including your name, email address, organisation details, and any views or comments you choose to provide.

If your submission includes personal information about another individual, you are responsible for ensuring they are aware of this privacy statement and that you have obtained their consent to include their information in your response.

DISR is committed to managing your privacy in accordance with the Australian Privacy Principles in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth). Participation in the AI Directory is voluntary. You may request to withdraw your entry at any time by contacting naic@industry.gov.au.

We will use this information for the purpose of assessing submissions, listing your organisation in the directory and supporting related NAIC activities, including communications, research, stakeholder engagement and events. As a benefit of being on the directory, we may use your contact details to offer you the opportunity to participate in events, showcases or related initiatives to promote Australian AI capability.

Some contact details DISR used may have been originally collected through the legacy Australian AI Ecosystem Discoverability Platform operated by CSIRO. These have transferred to DISR when responsibility for the directory moved. We notified individuals whose details were included in the previous platform about this change at the time.

Your personal information may be shared with relevant Australian Government agencies, external consultants and minister's offices for purposes consistent with the objectives of the directory and related NAIC activities.

We will not use or disclose your personal information for any other purpose without your consent, unless authorised or required by law. Your responses to Part 2 will be publicly available in the directory. If you include any personal identifiers such as names or personal email addresses in these fields, you are taken to have consented to their publication.

All personal information we collect will be stored and retained in line with the Archives Act 1983 (Cth).

If you have any questions or concerns about privacy, please refer to the department's Privacy Policy or contact us directly.
